Native American style quillwork belt

Needlepoint pattern | 180 x 22 stitches | 10 x 1.2 in (25.4 x 3.1 cm) on 18 mesh | 5 colors

How to stitch it

1. Each square is one tent stitch: up at 1, down at 2. Work a row right to left, then turn the canvas upside down for the next.
2. Cut 18 in of thread. Start and end it without a knot left behind.
3. Mark the middle of the canvas. It is the outlined square, column 30, row 11 (DMC 823), for a size 36 belt: start there. Count threads, not holes.
4. Go on from it: picture first, background last. One repeat is 3.3 in: carry on both ways to your length. Gray squares are charted twice: stitch them once.
5. Last, two more rows of DMC 823 along each long edge: they are folded under. Ask your finisher first.

For initials or a name at its middle, type them on the pattern's page: they are charted there.

What you need

Canvas: blank mono canvas, 18 mesh (18 threads to the inch), cut 36 x 5.5 in for a size 36 belt, which is stitched 30 to 32 in long.

Needle: blunt tapestry, size 22. Also masking tape for the cut edges, and small scissors.

Thread: six-strand floss, 5 colors, about 14 skeins for a size 36 belt (an estimate). Stitch with 4 strands (5 or 6 if canvas shows).

Make it a belt: a finisher who mounts it on leather, or a buckle and leather tabs. How to make a belt.

Thread colors are approximate screen matches to DMC numbers. Check against real thread before you buy.
